

this is nothing but total greed, I went thru this with my satellite TV. all you people want to do is milk every cent you can out of the little person and feed big buisness to keep them from whining. If big buisness would do a good job and really work to make a living they would not have to go whining to the goverment all the time to wipe their little noses.....